By DREW MIDDLETON

RUMANIA WILL GIVE MORE OIL TO NAZIS

Expulsion Of 12 French Executives Ordered In New Move

BUCHAREST, July 26.—Rumania tightened her grip on British and French oil properties in the rich Rumanian fields last night by ordering expulsion of 12 French oil executives and promised increased deliveries for Germany's war machine.

The government order came amid reports that at least 22 oil company executives would be expelled, including additional Britons. Earlier this month 30 British oilmen and their families were ousted and yesterday Rumania seized the country's largest oil enterprise, the $15,000,000 Astra-Romania company, and took over its vast supplies of British-produced oil.

The government action followed German claims that Allied documents had been found which disclosed a plot to sabotage the Rumanian oil industry rather than permit oil from this source to reach Germany.

The French group includes officials of the Colombia and Concordia Corporations which produce 18 per cent of Rumania's total oil output. Reports circulated that the government would requisition 60 British barges to augment the Danube river fleet for deliveries to the Reich.

HITLER'S AIDES CANNOT AGREE ON INVASION

LONDON, July 26.—A difference of opinion among Hitler's lieutenants is delaying the long-thought-of invasion of Britain, according to the diplomatic correspondent of the Daily Telegraph.

In a front page story, he says Hitler has been unable to settle a serious conflict of views, adding that "Goering, Goebbels and Gen. Wilhelm Keitel, chief of staff, are insisting that the threatened attack on Britain must not be launched, while von Ribbentrop, chief of the German foreign ministry, and other extremists who have little or no serious responsibility for the prosecution of the war, are pressing for an invasion."

The correspondent says he gained his information "from most reliable neutral sources which claimed that Goering and Goebbels consider the risk of an invasion too great."

AVERAGE WEST GRAIN CROPS REPORTED GOOD

WINNIPEG, July 26.—With sectional averages lower because of heat and lack of moisture, the general average of the western wheat and coarse grain crops across the prairies is reported good in the weekly summary compiled by the agricultural department of the Canadian Pacific railway.

Alberta, with comparatively light showers, suffered somewhat in the south along the Taber subdivision, but elsewhere is reporting well. Central Saskatchewan, east and west, conditions are improved, though larger areas in the south need rain for filling.

Wheat heads everywhere average about three inches and are filling well except in Saskatchewan, where the quality varies greatly with general moisture conditions.

Peace River wheat is from 24 to 28 inches high and heading and filling well. Coarse grains in this district are beginning to head at 16 to 26 inches.

Nazi Offensive May Be Confined To Coastal Raids

LONDON, July 26.—Air Marshal Sir Philip Joubert said last night the German offensive against Britain may be confined to heavy coastal raids.

Sir Philip said: "Hitler may feel that after the time given to us to complete our resistance a full-scale invasion is an unwarrantable risk and that he can employ his forces more successfully on less well defended ports."

"The danger to us will be that we shall run the risk of becoming bored."

WHEAT POLICY CHANGES URGED BY POOL HEAD

Saskatchewan President Asks For Advances On Wheat On Farm

OTTAWA, July 26.—John H. Wesson of Regina, president of the Saskatchewan Wheat Pool, in a statement yesterday endorsed many provisions of the government's new wheat policy but suggested three changes.

They follow:

- 1.—Provision for farmers to obtain financial assistance during the time they are unable to deliver wheat because of lack of public storage space.

- 2.—A fixed price of $1.25 for wheat to be ground into flour for domestic consumption instead of the present fluctuating price.

- 3.—Closing of the Winnipeg futures market.

Wesson appears to be no provision for advancing money for wheat which must remain on the farm, he said. "It is imperative that some provision be made if only one-third of the crop is moved on an equitable basis in the fall with the ruinous low prices of wheat, it means not only hardship for the wheat grower but advances to some extent paralyze the whole economic structure."

"The present processing tax to be charged on all wheat manufactured into flour consumed in Canada is purely a gesture although a step in the right direction. The pools believe there ought to be a domestic price for wheat of at least $1.25 a bushel. An advance of 32 cents a bushel increases the price of bread one cent a loaf. The $1.25 figure is close to what is known as the parity price level of the goods the producer has to purchase."

HITLER CANNOT WIN WAR, SAYS AUSTRIAN HEIR

British Empire Press Exclusive to Edmonton Bulletin

WASHINGTON, July 26.—An underground movement in Austria plans to revolt against German domination, Archduke Otto Von Hapsburg, heir to the non-existent Austrian Hungarian throne, said Thursday.

The 27-year-old Archduke said he was "confident" that Germany would not win the European war because Adolf Hitler "cannot hold out in the long run." He added that there is "total opposition" to the German regime in Austria but that the people dare not make it vocal.

"The majority of Austrians want the monarchy as soon as we achieve independence," he said. "But they are also democratic, and I am sure that both will be restored to Austria. Monarchy and democracy are not incompatible. They go hand in hand."

Tommies Show Bravery, Contempt for Enemy as Lancaster Is Bombed

By DOUGLAS AMARON
Associated Press Staff Writer

LONDON, July 26.—The supreme courage of members of the British Expeditionary Force and their contempt for the enemy was disclosed yesterday when the full story of the bombing of the 1524th Conard-White Star liner Lancaster became known here.

The veteran cruiser liner was attacked by planes off St. Nazaire, France, July 25. The ship was hit during the removal of British troops from France.

HEROISM IN DISASTER

After half an hour of ineffectual bombing, a salvo hit the ship which took a heavy list, then capsized and sank. The list hampered the launching of lifeboats and women and children evacuated, and Tommies jumped into the water where they were machine gunned by the enemy planes.

Survivors painted pictures of heroism and coolness in the face of disaster.

It was estimated that 2325 soldiers and refugees are missing, but that number of them may have been saved. Contributors will be machine gunned by the enemy planes.

"I started to sing 'There'll Always Be An England' As I was swimming in the harbor the ship suddenly went down. Even then I heard the strains of 'Roll Out The Barrel' coming from her."

MAY BE ITALY PLANES

Two sisters of the church army were in a bathroom when they saw through a porthole "a dark cloud in the sky moving very fast. It turned out to be five or six airplanes which as soon as they were over the ship released their bombs. The sisters entered a lifeboat while men were sliding down the sea on ropes, or leaping overboard."

Members of the crew said they were not certain but they thought the planes which did the bombing were Italian. They saw the Naval escorts and troops engaged the raiders with anti-aircraft fire, and saw watercraft on the sea on ropes, or leaping overboard.

Many of the survivors were in a bathroom when they saw through a porthole "a dark cloud in the sky moving very fast. DAVISON SAYS STATEMENT OF LOW IS WRONG

CALGARY, July 26.—In a communication to George H. Bow, K.C., M.P., Mayor Andrew Davison of Calgary yesterday charged that statements made before the House of Commons committee on banking and commerce on Wednesday by Hon. Solon E. Low, Alberta provincial treasurer, were untrue.

Mr. Low was reported as informing the committee that suggestions how the province and its municipalities might effect an exchange of cash money, bond and other securities from the cities and that, up to the present, no agreement had been reached.

Mayor Davison denied that these statements were true and forwarded copies of correspondence which passed between himself and Mr. Low last year to prove his contention.

HOUSE ADOPTS DEATH PENALTY FOR TREACHERY

OTTAWA, July 26.—The House of Commons Thursday adopted a bill strengthening the hands of those responsible for suppressing sabotage in the dominion and providing a mandatory death penalty for those convicted of treason.

The bill, introduced July 8 on recommendation of the committee on the Defence of Canada Regulations, was put through all stages and went to the senate after about three hours' debate.

Only opposition to the bill came from M. J. Coldwell (C.C.F.), Bowman-Biggs, who moved an amendment which would remove the mandatory effect of the death clause.

This was defeated on a roll of eyes and nods after Finance Minister Flaherty, who was chairman of the committee, which drafted the bill, said it was turned down by the committee and could not be accepted by the government.

G. H. WILLIAMS IS RE-ELECTED C. C. F. LEADER

REGINA, July 26.—George H. Williams, M.L.A., who played a leading role in the defeat of the war effort, Wednesday was re-elected Co-operative Commonwealth leader and president of the Saskatchewan section of the party's convention here.

Mr. Williams, who earlier challenged the convention to nominate someone for presidency opposed to "my whitecheeked support of the war effort," defeated Professor Carlyle King of the University of Saskatchewan, O. W. Vallentyne, M.L.A. for Manitoba, and Prof. King said the nomination wasn't an answer to Mr. Williams' challenge.

The convention urged suspension of wealth, labor and resources and called for a maximum contribution to the dominion's war effort as the policy of the C.C.F. in respect to the present war.

Trying To Cut Off Relief

President Roosevelt has been told by Red Cross officials that attempts are being made to sabotage the efforts of this organization in the United States by Nazi finesse methods. Rumors are being spread there that relief supplies intended for the victims of the aggressors in Europe are falling into Nazi and Fascist hands and thus strengthening the military power of Germany and Italy.

This is a clever and unscrupulous scheme to trade on the public hostility toward the gangster bosses of the agents who spread the rumors. If relief contributions can be thus cut off, the destitute peoples in the outraged countries will be completely at the "mercy" of the dictators.

If these methods are being used in the United States, no doubt they will be used also in Canada. Canadians should therefore be on guard against such rumors, and disregard them. Parties persistently circulating them should be corralled in the intermittent camps.

It will be time enough to stop contributing to European relief funds when responsible officials of the relief organizations say their supplies are being stolen from the destitute peoples by their oppressors. Nothing would serve the purposes of Hitler better than that the misery of the conquered populations should be intensified by the complete cessation of all outside relief, for people in the extremity of despair could be more easily held in subjection.

Britain's New Tax Record

British taxpayers are to pay more for nearly everything they buy from boots to beer, theatre tickets to kitchen chairs; but they will pay it to the Government. For the privilege of buying luxuries they will contribute 24 per cent of the retail prices to the national treasury. On a long list of necessities the tax is 12 per cent. Income taxes have moved up, all along the line, to an average rate of 42 1/2 per cent. And the taxpayers have what present consolation they can get from a hint that another budget may come down in the fall, with another list of new taxes or increases.

Like Canada, Britain aims to "pay as it goes" so far as possible. War and ordinary expenditure will run to 60 per cent of the total income of the nation. Heavy taxation is imposed both to save interest in future and to prevent inflation at present due to large borrowing. An avowed purpose is to restrict personal expenditure on consumption goods, and thus conserve the productive power of labor for war work. Luxury-buying is hit hard to stop waste of time and energy in the making of things that can be done without.

As the Chancellor pleasantly explained, he plans to "absorb the excess income of the nation by taxation," and thus prevent prices and wages starting a dislocating upward spiral. The taxpayers will agree that the budget seems well designed to accomplish the end. Those whose incomes have not been increased by war expenditure will know that it goes beyond this, and leaves them less of their unchanged earnings on which to live.

This budget sets a new all-time record. No free people were ever so heavily taxed before. Canadians may study the schedule with something more than spectator interest, for we are in for an indefinite measure of the same treatment. All we possess, like all the people of Britain possess, is at stake in the war. If we lose we and they lose all. Our—and their—only chance to save something is to put as much money as the Governments need into the war funds.

Wheat-Marketing Plans

During the coming market year farmers selling wheat to the Wheat Board will be paid an initial price based on 70 cents at Fort William, as during the present year. They will also receive participation certificates entitling them to share in the profits if the Board makes any money on its operations.

Because elevator space available is far less than required to house the new crop, producers will deliver only a proportion of their wheat to the Board, and will be paid for storing the balance on their farms.

Producers may sell their entire crops to the Board, instead of being limited as at present to 5,000 bushels each.

The law is being changed to allow interim payments on participation certificates when the Board has funds on hand.

The Winnipeg Grain Exchange will continue to operate. Futures trading will be on the basis of present pegged prices.

A processing tax of 15 cents per bushel will be levied upon wheat milled in Canada for home consumption, to yield an expected revenue of $20,000,000 to the Wheat Board.

These are the outstanding points in the wheat-marketing policy outlined by Hon. J. A. MacKinnon on Wednesday. The policy is in the main a continuance of that adopted a year ago. But it has been amended in important particulars to meet the new conditions created by the closure of the markets in continental Europe. The processing tax is new. The payment for farm storage is new. The permission to sell without limit to the Wheat Board is new.

These are added "props" to keep the market—and wheat-production—up from collapsing into chaos and confusion through the pressure of increased supply and a weakened demand abroad. It is not pretended they will make the grower prosperous. But they will save him from ruin, and will strengthen his position as compared with that during the present market year.

One important result should be the building of permanent granaries on farms, where wheat can be stored at no cost in future years, and more leisurely marketing thus made possible to the growers.

King Carol of Rumania has finally thrown in his lot with the Axis powers, attesting his adherence by seizing the oil wells of British and Dutch investors and arranging to ship the output to Germany. The decision is obviously based on strategy, not preference, and will hold only so long as Carol is more afraid of Hitler than of the Fuehrer's enemies or his conditional associate Stalin.

Congratulations to the Lacombe Globe on having won the Savage Shield, emblematic of Canada's best weekly newspaper in the 500 to 1,000 circulation class. The honor is a real one, because the standard of Canadian weeklies is high, and there has been a wide effort to improve them since contests for this coveted trophy began some years ago. Its home town shares the distinction that has come to the Globe, for only by loyal support on the part of readers and advertisers could so excellent a paper be produced.

The Passing Show

By J. S. COWPER

Japan is taking full advantage of the European war to push her aims in Asiatic waters. Deprived by the pliable Chinese from full conquest of that country, she is driving harsh bargains to stop the transit of munitions to Chiang Kai Shek and his army. Like a type of weak man, she is making a feeble and appeasement for the feeling "insulted" if she doesn't get her way. The trouble with the American marines at Shanghai is a case in point. The marines found sixteen Japanese gendarmes slouching in the American defense zone, in plain clothes. They very properly placed them under arrest. Their presence was clearly for espionage purposes. Instead of making apologies, Japan claims to be "insulted." She says that the men—now reduced to "three or four"—were manhandled by the American marines. The marines say they used only reasonable force to take those of the Japanese who resisted arrest. The Japanese admit that none of the men required medical treatment. They were turned loose after five hours' detention.

The commander of the marines, Col. De Witt Peck, unused to the language of diplomacy, bluntly declared "insult" when the Japanese spokesmen declared that his countrymen had been maltreated. Unable to obtain the requested apology, the Japanese say they reserve the right to bring up at some future time the question of reaping apologies. It may be a way of "saying face," it may be a subject for future reprisal. There's a type of woman who enjoys being "insulted."

England and Spain once went to war because a ship-master, Captain Jenkins, lost an ear to Spain. It doesn't take much to start a war when a nation seeks war. Let us forget, the excuse of the Japanese for ravaging China is that two Japanese soldiers were shot on sentry duty. It's not clear that they were shot, or who shot them, but it served as a pretext to send armies to China.

The British people will not know starvation as millions in continental Europe will do before the winter is over, but the British precious cup of tea will be cut down by 25 per cent. Margarine and cooking fats are to be rationed. No gourmand will be able to order a fish course and a meat course at the same meal when dining out. The kitchen on a government ship will disappear. Big meals that people ordered at West End restaurants raised criticism in the press.

English folk are heavy eaters. They'll be better in health for limiting their diets and cutting down on fats and sugars. In the World War, so that remarkable octogenarian youth, Dr. Robert G. Jackson, asserts, the disease rate fell when people cut down on their meals.

In the meantime, some sensible folk at first thought that this minor war was on peace-time as well as in wartime. One is that families living where green feed can be obtained should keep a goat. Being free from tuberculosis there are none of the governmental restrictions on this, the poor man's cow. On my own little island up the coast, a former resident used to make his own cheese from goat's milk. I saw him at 76 turn handier. He attributed his agility to living largely on goat's milk.

To overcome any sugar shortage, allotment holders are advised to grow a row of sugar beets. In the fall when the beets are taken up and washed, they are cut into small pieces, covered with water in a large saucepan and allowed to simmer for three hours. After straining the liquid, it is put back in the pan and allowed to simmer till it makes a sticky syrup. Bottled, it can be used to sweeten puddings and preserves.

We've lost much of the skill of the housewife of three generations ago, who could live well off the products of the soil where the modern housewife, deprived of refined sugar, the telephone and a good can-opener would starve.

It's mistakenly said that the German people lack a sense of humor. The rub is that their sense of humor is different from ours, just as our own Canadian humor differs in degree from humor in the Mother Country. Here's a sample of German humor.

Death Sentence

"France must return to her agricultural and peasant character." These are not Hitler's words. They are the words of Marshal Henri Philippe Petain, addressing the French Parliament. They are shocking words, almost as shocking as was the announcement of the fall of Paris. In these words all France seems to fall, and Hitler's theory of a "reintegrated" Europe finds expression in the mouth of a distinguished Frenchman. Herr Hitler's "geohistoric" plan for a new order, in which a subordinate and selfless France will feed an industrial Germany, is re-stated in terms of seeming French patriotism. The Marshal goes down the full length of the road. Not only does he speak Hitler's death sentence for France, but he clothes it in this dress: "France recognizes herself in the midst of an immense brotherhood movement." "Brotherhood" is not the word most Frenchmen will use to describe their forced fascination at bayonet-point—New York Post.

The Perfect Mirror

Promises of peace and plans for peace are merely weapons used by Hitler in preparation for war on the principles and principalities of those who oppose him.

His objective is the destruction of man's mind. His conception of man is a marching mass, awing Hitler and thither at his behest. His perception of mind is a mechanical process to orders from the German appointed by the German God... der Fuehrer... himself.

For all those who refuse to conform to his instructions, he decrees death. For those countries which resist his plans and do not believe his promises, he decrees destruction.

For friendship he substitutes fear; for justice... power. He exists in an atmosphere of intrigue and adulation. He lives in a state of constant expectancy that the world will accept him at his own valuation of himself.

His speech to the Reichstag was the perfect mirror of his character.—Vancouver Sun.

The "Teeth" In The Law

Ignorance of the law excuses no one for committing an illegal act or for having neglected to perform a duty prescribed by the civil authority. For the orders given in virtue of the War Measures Act the most severe sanctions are necessary because disobedience to them presupposes revolt. The object of these sanctions is twofold. They should be punitive and exemplary. A simple fine to be paid would not embarrass the rich; a short prison sentence would have no effect upon good-for-nothings. But ways are found for increasing the penalties of bringing recalcitrance to its senses. There is, therefore, nothing astonishing in the fact that the order for military inscription recently given should be accompanied by severe sanctions. At first sight one might think that the government was planning a "show trial" in Canada. It is not. But it is important to protect two categories of the population who imagine that they can escape from the general rule, from mistaken calculations.—Le Soleil (Quebec).

A Job Ahead

The reduction of Britain is a highly specialized military task in which only specialized personnel and equipment—trained aviators, submarine and motorboat crews, trained shock troops, special boat equipment, particular items of supply, such as aviation gasoline—can be of much use. Such men and such elements of equipment cannot be available in unlimited numbers, and the battle of France put a heavy drain on them. Unless British morale can be cracked in advance, Britain may hold out for a long time and inflict colossal losses in doing so. And if that happens? If these German crowds, who cheered with such frenzy recently, find themselves going into a famine, if the bombs cannot be staved off, despite all Hitler's promises to protect German soil; if the Russians are threatening; if the French turn out to be less docile and less helpful than the Petain puppet government; if that case, will we be able to clear that Hitler has proved himself the "victor over 1918"? Will all the present celebrations of success not return with a crushing effect on morale? Britain is still a tremendous obstacle to the Nazi "redistribution of the world," and if any one is to indulge in premature celebration and premature confidence, it is a good thing to find them in one's enemy and not in one's self.—New York Herald Tribune.

As Simple As That

The Frankfurter Zeitung, discussing Hitler's threatening "peace offer" to Britain, reaches the fantastic but entirely Nazi-like conclusion that it will be President Roosevelt's fault if Britain does not accept.

The newspaper says that Mr. Roosevelt is to blame for the "illusions still prevailing" in Britain about the power of Hitler and the terrible consequences of rejecting his last offer as the alternative to the "destruction of England." This illusion, says the Frankfurter Zeitung, is the belief that the United States is willing and able to give active help in the war against Hitler.

All this, of course, is routine German propaganda, for home consumption, first of all, and afterwards for such use abroad as may be. The queer thing is that the Frankfurter Zeitung can not leave well enough alone. It goes on to attack President Roosevelt in this phrase:

"Now that he wants to be elected, he openly admits that he systematically agitated for years against National Socialism."

This is a beautiful example of that Nazi mentality which still remains incomprehensible to our side, which seems to suggest that perhaps the incomprehension is mutual, that we can never understand them and that they will never understand us.

For this complaint of the Frankfurter Zeitung's is all the same as saying that it is perfectly all right for Hitler to undertake to destroy (and by fraud and brutal violence) our way of life and our system of government, but it is somehow all wrong for us to resist.—Vancouver Province.

McKenney On Bridge

By WM. E. MCKENNEY, America's Card Authority

A tournament of the utmost importance to southern players will be held on August 23-25 at Asheville, N.C. Many New York stars are planning to attend. It is one of the most important bridge events of the year.

I recall watching today's hand played on my last visit to Asheville. The dealer was North.

South West North East
1 Pass 3 Pass
4 Pass Pass Pass
Opening—4-4 26

Duplicate Neither vul.
South West North East
1 Pass 3 Pass
4 Pass Pass Pass
Opening—4-4 26

The opening lead was won by North. He played the ace of spades, which established East's queen. On the second spade West discarded the queen of hearts. If the opening lead of the four was fourth-best, the dealer should have West's hand held five hearts, and East could have had but two.

At this point declarer led a club in dummy's hand, and returned a small diamond and finessed the ten-spot. West won with the Jack and played the queen of hearts. North won, the king of clubs and ace of diamonds were cashed, a small diamond led to the king and dummy's club ruffed.

Now both the North and South hands were seen striped of diamonds and clubs. Declarer led a spade, put East in the lead, and either a diamond or club must be returned. Thus declarer had an opportunity to discard his losing heart from his hand and ruff in the other, making five odd.

Death Rained Down on Norwegian Harbor But Edmonton Sailor Safe

When death rained from the skies over Norway's Narvik harbor, and German guns blazed at point-blank range on the advancing British flotilla led by the glorious Warspite, an Edmonton-born lad, Martin C. Caine, 20, was in the thick of the fight, according to a letter received here by his father, John M. Caine, Moser Ryder Building.

LAWN BOWLERS FROM PRAIRIES LOSE AT COAST

VANCOUVER, July 26.—Prairie bowlers were ousted from the Jenkins and L. J. Jack trophy events before rain forced postponement of play in the fourth day's play of the 18th annual tournament of the British Columbia Lawn Bowling Association here yesterday.

The doubles team of Ford and Sinal from Medicine Hat, however, defeated Langstaff and Doolittle, B.C., 11-6 in a third round match. The Jenkins trophy event, in which the Jenkins rink, capt. G. Jackson of Calgary, defeated D. Moore of Vancouver 15-13 in a preliminary round, but was ousted 16-15 in the first round by D. Moore of Vancouver.

Gallagher of Medicine Hat, only other Alberta entrant in the event, was defeated 19-9 by F. Overland, Vancouver, in the preliminary round.

H. Muir of Medicine Hat passed the preliminary and first rounds of the L. J. Jack rink trophy competition but fell out in the second round when he landed a 15-12 defeat by D. Moore of North Vancouver.

A. S. Lockwood, also from Medicine Hat, defeated T. Campbell of Vancouver 12-11 in the preliminary round, but was ousted 17-8 by S. Gaby of West Vancouver in the first round. Gallagher was knocked out 16-10 in the second round by J. F. Hutchinson, Vancouver.

J. S. Watson of Calgary was defeated in the preliminary round 14-8 by D. Hicks, Vancouver.

The team of Gribble and Hill from Calgary fell out of the Bill Gray doubles trophy event when they were defeated 19-9 in the second round by Barnes and Wood of Vancouver.

Maccabees Win 5-3 Over Poderskys To Lead Junior Men's Softball Loop

THE Maccabees beat Podersky's Furniture 5-3 last night at Kingsway Park and the win placed them on the top rung of the junior men's softball league ladder with five wins and four losses. The defeat dropped Podersky's back into second place with five wins and the same number of losses, while the E.A.C. team has four wins and five defeats.

The Maccabees only got four hits against six, but the Furniture crew had a basketful of errors which helped the opposition. Bartoske batted .500 in the game getting two hits in four trips up and he drove in two runs. Livingstone and Sheedon each got two-base hits.

Podersky's looked to be well away when they collected a pair of counters in the second inning. Sheedon doubled to left and went to third on an error in handling Harris' grounder. The latter then promptly stole second and both scored when Timchuk's roller went through third base. Their third run came in the sixth when Livingstone cracked out a two-bagger, went to third on Chickens' sacrifice and home on a passed ball.

The Maccabees located the score sheet in the fourth inning. Sheer hit down the third base line, then stole second and third. Brown walked and went to the next stop on a passed ball. A hit by Bartoske brought in Sheer and Brown landed on an overthrow over third.

In the sixth, Fefferman was safe on the third baseman's error and continued the journey on a passed ball. He reached third when Soloski cut a life on a bobble and Brown was safe on an error at first. Bartoske hit scoring the first baserun. Outrigger got free transportation forcing in another run and Lukaty's single scored Brown.
